GETS $11,575 IN DAMAGES SHOT BY A JEALOUS RIVAL?

VERDICT AGAINST THE BIGFOUR IN FAVOR OF MISS VIVIAN HADLEY, TRIED IN CIRCUIT COURT TWO YEARS AND SEVEN MONTHS AGO, IS FINALLY ADJUSTED—MONEY PAID S. A. HAYS, ATTORNEY FOR THE WOMAN

WENT TO THE HIGHER COURTS

Miss Hadley, who is daughter of ex-State Official, Had Her Arm Injured By Coach Window Falling on it—Is Now the Wife of Thomas Bryan, Well Known Here.

After having been to the Appellate and Supreme Courts for rehearing since the verdict was rendered here more than two years and seven months ago, the final step in the case of Vivian Hadley against the Big Four railroad for damages was taken Monday morning when County Clerk Hamilton paid to S. A. Hays $11,575. The damages awarded to the young lady in the Putnam Circuit Court was $10,000. The interest on that amount since the verdict is $1,575. This was added to the amount of damages.

Miss Hadley, who filed the suit, is the daughter of an ex-official of the state. She was injured in a Big Four railroad coach by having the window drop on her arm. Suit was filed by her for $10,000 damages and the jury awarded her a verdict.

The railroad then appealed the case to the appellate court. This body divided on an opinion and the case was sent to the Supreme Court. The latter sustained the verdict of the lower courts. Then the railroad filed a motion for a re-hearing. This was denied and the railroad today paid the damages with interest.

Miss Hadley recently was married to Thomas Bryan, who attended DePauw, and who made his home in Putnam County for many years. He is now practicing medicine in Lerna, Illinois.

CIRCUIT COURT NOTES

The case of George W. Christie vs. The C. C. C. & St. L. Ry. Co., on change of venue from Hendricks County has the right of way in court today. Thad Adams of Danville and Moore Bros. represent the plaintiff and Mr. Enloe of Danville and Grooms the defendant railway company. The jury was empaneled in the forenoon and they began taking testimony in the afternoon.

File Suit to Annual Deed.

Elizabeth J. Jones Wed through her attorneys, Moore Bros., filed suit against William H. O. Young, praying that the court set aside a deed made by the plaintiff and her deceased sister to the defendant. The complaint states the sisters, some years since had conveyed to the defendant a certain piece of real estate, with the stipulation in consideration that the defendant should provide for the sisters during life and pay the funeral expenses at death.

The complaint alleges that the sister of the plaintiff has died and that the stipulations of the deed have not been carried out. That she was not provided for during life, nor were her funeral expenses paid at death, that expense falling upon the plaintiff. In addition she has, she alleges, kept house for the defendant, contributed certain poultry to the stock of provisions without return. She therefore asks that the deed be set aside.

the bullets struck McKeen.

Both McKeen and young Slavens had bid for the affections of the young lady and it is believed that Slavens, prompted by jealousy fired the shots. He lives on the farm adjoining McKeen. Both live near the Putnam and Parke County line. Slavens was arrested that morning on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Charley Slavens, who lives just north of the county line, and who was arrested on a charge of shooting Will McKeen, a neighbor boy, last Tuesday night, has confessed to the Rockville officers where he was taken and placed in jail.

He says that he fired the shots, but fired them in fun. His story is that he and McKeen had been to call upon young ladies that night. He got home first and hid in the McKeen buggy shed. When young McKeen arrived home, Slavens fired shots, to scare McKeen he says. He did not aim at McKeen, he says. One of the shots must have glanced as it hit McKeen in the shoulder making a slight wound. Slavens then ran home and telephoned for a doctor to wait upon McKeen. He was so scared that he at first denied the shooting. It is believed that the boy will not be prosecuted.

ASKS DAMAGES OF MARSHAL

George W. Brothers of Roachdale Brings Suit Against Town Officer To Recover Because of Personal Injuries.

LARGE CROWD HEARS THE TRIAL

The court room was fairly well filled last Friday by residents of Roachdale who were present to listen to the evidence in the trial of the case of George W. Brothers against the Town Marshal of Roachdale and his bondsmen. This is a case growing out of the riots in Roachdale last fall when the town authorities attempted to place a lid upon the place. At that time Brothers was arrested by the town marshal, B. S. Littell, better known as 'Stalker.' During the process of the arrest Brothers received two or three blows from the mace in the hands of the Marshal. The plaintiff now alleges that there was no cause for these blows being struck, that Littell exceeded the line of official duty in so striking him. He therefore asks $2,000 damages and

BOY HELD FOR BURGLARY

A Youth of Nineteen Years Steals Eggs From the Home of James Buntin and Lands in the Hands Of the Court.

HARD QUESTION FOR THE JUDGE

Daniel Tobin of Attleboro, Mass., was before Judge Rawley Monday morning on a charge of burglary. Young Tobin had been caught in the act of attempting to steal provisions from the home of James Buntin in Marion Township, on Sunday afternoon. The boy, in company with four other tramps, was near the Buntin home when Mr. Buntin drove away in the afternoon. After the owner was gone the boy went to the back door, which was latched but not locked, opened the door and entered. He had taken some eight or nine eggs from a basket there when Earl Buntin, who lives near, and who had seen the boy enter the yard, arrived upon the scene. He is confident that as he approached the house he heard the thief at the refrigerator though this the prisoner denies. The intruder gave up the eggs when called upon to do so. Mr. Buntin then called up the Greencastle police and asked that officers be sent for the man, which was done. He was brought to town and lodged in jail.

That morning Judge Rawley heard his story, which contained the usual tale of no work and a great hunger. The judge continued the case pending the return of information from several firms in the east to whom the prosecuting attorney will write to know if Tobin had been employed by them, and what his record was. Judgment will be passed in the light of these replies.

Such cases are hard problems for Judge Rawley. With two million men out of employment, and hungry men everywhere, the punishment of cases of theft of small quantities of food is difficult. Most otherwise honest men will steal before they will starve, and stealing food under the circumstances is, perhaps, not such a crime after all. On the other hand the boy may be a hard case putting up a hard-luck story in hopes to get a light sentence. Between these two possibilities the judge must decide.

COUNTY PAYS OFF BONDS

$34,000 of Principal and Interest of Court House and Gravel Road Bonds are Liquidated by the Treasurer.

DEBT IS CUT DOWN RAPIDLY

The Treasurer has made arrangements to pay on the fifteenth of this month the principal and interest on $34,000 of bonds. The bonds are those issued for the construction of gravel roads in various townships, and for the construction of the court house. It will be noted that the bonded indebtedness of the county and the various townships is being cut down rapidly. It is also to be remembered that in many cases new roads are waiting to be contracted for as soon as the debt limit of the township makes it possible. It costs money but the roads are coming rapidly.

SAYS MONON LOSES MONEY

According to Judge E. C. Field of Chicago, general solicitor for the Monon Railroad, who appeared before the State Board of Tax Commissioners in Indianapolis Wednesday to protest against an increase in the Monon's tax levy this year, that company has been losing money at a rapid rate during the last few months. The Monon is assessed at $25,000 a mile in Indiana. Judge Field thought this was too high.

He admitted as evidence before the board a table showing that the company's net earnings have decreased $147,109.50 in the last year.

The State Tax Board has practically closed its first session and is now figuring on the valuations of the telephone, telegraph, and interurban and steam lines in Indiana before making assessments. The board expects to finish this work by the middle of next week.

BELLE UNION

We are surely having some nice spring days after about 2 weeks rain and cold. There is not much corn planted yet and several of our farmers not near done breaking for corn yet. Oats are looking fine but not very much was sown on account of the wet weather. O. J. Larkin of our little city is buying wool and paying 18 cents for it at the present. Have you seen the merry widow sailors? Uncle Preston Burns says he has got out of the notion of renting any pasture for the present. Dr. Moser went to the county seat last Wednesday night. Sunday School is progressing nicely at the Union Valley church with a large crowd in attendance every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Some of the farmers have been taking medicine for the blue this wet weather, but to no effect. There are some people who would move from their little farms to our quiet little city but there are no houses to rent. John Cohn is building an addition to his store room. Our K. of P. lodge is increasing rapidly. There are about 40 members now, with more coming.

NOW IN SUB-TROPICAL BELT

Dr. Brown of the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy Gives Valuable Hints on the Weather Situation.

MORE RAIN WITH DRY SUMMER

Dr. Brown, of the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy, of De Pauw University, in a conversation gave some ideas on the present weather conditions that are interesting. Dr. Brown, for many years, has been a close student of meteorological conditions, and speaks with as much authority as any one upon weather conditions and possibilities. Dr. Brown is of the opinion that we are now in a semi-tropical belt in which we are to have a dry season and a wet season. This belt usually lies south of us. In the periodic tippings of the earth, however, which causes the sun to come, some years a little further north than other years, this sub-tropical belt reaches as far north as Indiana. In this belt the rainy season follows the sun north and ceases when the sun reaches its highest point and begins again to work southward. This will, of course be about the 21st of June. We may look, therefore, if this theory is correct, for some two weeks more of wet weather the rainy season at the edge of the belt being shorter than in its center. Also, if this theory is correct, and we are now in this belt, with its wet and dry season, when the rain stops it will stop altogether, and we are likely to have a very dry summer, moistened only by local showers.

There is another theory of weather conditions that applies to the present time also, according to Dr. Brown. Weather conditions run in cycles of some thirty-five years. The length of a weather cycle is approximately the length of the life of three sun spots, those remarkable and unexplained storms of fire upon the sun. At the beginning and end of the cycle we have a period when the seasons are moderate, that is cool summers and warm and wet winters. It is now near the end of the cycle. We have had two warm wet winters and may look for yet one or two more with cool summers. The probabilities, as nearly as science and observation can foretell, therefore, are for a cool dry summer and another wet, warm winter.

DECORATION DAY AT PUTNAMVILLE

Decoration Day will be observed at Putnamville with appropriate exercises. Each year witnesses a growing interest in the meaning and observance of this day set apart in honor of the Nation's dead heroes. Rev. C. W. Whitman of Trinity Church, Indianapolis, will deliver the address. Rev. Whitman was a former pastor at Putnamville, and the fact that this will be his eighth consecutive Decoration Day address is sufficient evidence of his popularity in the community and his interest as a speaker. On Friday evening May 29, he will give his lecture on "Abraham Lincoln." The public is cordially invited. The Putnamville Brass Band which has been making substantial progress under the leadership of Mr. Layman, will furnish the music for these exercises.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Mayville, N. Y., and to Mrs. W. P. Boyd, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say: "I was not able to do my own work, owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it."

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

GET INTO POLITICS.

"Get into politics." Under this heading "American Industries," the organ of the National Association of Manufacturers, prints an editorial advising its readers to take a greater interest in politics. It is sound advice. It does not mean that each and every individual should attempt to seek office. Office getting is not politics, in the sense the editorial means. It has in mind the study of political and social problems, the attending of primaries, the watching of the record of congressmen and senators—a careful study of the political machine with a view of bettering the situation. The average man has been led by office seekers and party. His part has been to do the yelling at conventions and political speakings, to do the voting and to allow the office holders to do the rest. "Getting into politics" means having a word to say in who shall run, and what the "runner" shall do when in office. If the people of the United States will get into politics in this way, there will be a retiring from the "halls of congress" of many "representatives of the people" who now remember the people only when it is time to get the people's votes. Mr. Watson, now "whip of the house" and candidate for governor of Indiana, is such an office holder. Upon the stump he secures the shouts of the unthinking whose political value, to him, is shouting at his speeches and voting for his election. In congress he votes for the Aldrich bill and all the bills of the "interests," "stands pat" on the tariff, and in general does the will of "Uncle Joe," whose motto is "The public be damned." Yes "get into politics." Vote for the things that will help you. Be of more use than to shout at conventions and vote in November. Make the men who want your votes stand by you when elected. Again, get into politics.

IN FEAR AND TREMBLING.

The attitude of some of the great financiers as they look forward to the coming presidential nomination is that of cringing fear, and trembling. They are absolutely afraid that either the Republicans or Democrats will nominate and elect a man who will compel them to be honest. This is the great nightmare of their lives—the fear that finance will be placed on the plane of honesty. These men, who for years have deceived a public, stood at the head of monopoly, manipulated stocks, secured government secrets through bribery, used the United States treasury because of the strength of a pull, and controlled legislation through "interest-elected senators," fear the coming of the square deal. They fear an honest adjustment of the tariff, an honest distribution of the taxes, honest-compelling laws in finance. And to these men, in the nightmare of their fear, two figures stand out threatening and grim—the figures of Roosevelt and Bryan. For it is interesting to note that the organs of the interests such as the New York World, Harper's Weekly, the Comic "Judge" vomit their venom with perfect impartiality upon these two men. These organs frankly acknowledge that Roosevelt has taken Bryan's ideas and acted upon them, and they fear that the Bryan ideas will be further carried out through the election of Bryan himself. Hence the wild yelpings, the frantic gesticulations of those who fear honesty, and who see in William Jennings Bryan the symbol of honesty and fair dealing. It is perhaps the greatest eulogy that

Bryan has ever received to be maligned and defamed by these men who fear honesty, in either business or government.

RATHER A DIRTY LIE.

The Republican party of the State has been driven to rather small politics these days, a sure sign of lack of confidence in themselves. Being unable to find any flaw in the character of the Democratic candidate for Governor, Mr. Marshall, of Columbia City, they have fallen upon the subterfuge, in their new-born love of temperance and their new-born fear of their record, of attempting to connect Mr. Marshall with the liquor forces of the state. If there were the possibility of truth in their statements it would not be so small and so ridiculous. But Mr. Marshall is an uncompromising temperance man, sometimes declared to be fanatical in his attitude. A simple statement that in his manhood he did not intend to plead his morality and his religion as reasons for election to the governorship of the state has been misquoted, warped and twisted by the Republican press into a statement that he was a non-religionist. Such scurrility can have but one result, the disgusting of thinking people. That Mr. Marshall will not speak before Y. M. C. A. and other religious bodies is a lie. His program as published, already includes several such dates, noticeably a speech before the Y. M. C. A. at Crawfordsville, and other such speeches are contemplated. Mr. Marshall will not use such places to further his political interests, however, having not yet stooped to the level of considering his church as a basis for political aspiration as has our worthy Vice-President.

REPUBLICAN BUMPTIGNESS.

The Republican party has grown exceedingly "chesty" of late over its attitude on the temperance question. Members of the party who take a drink and leave it alone and take another one and leave that alone, are bumpstiously proclaiming themselves and the party as next door to tin angels because of the county local option plank in the Republican state platform. This is really amusing. We remember that only through fear of defeat, facing, as the party did, a record in the state that would be the undoing of any party, did the Republicans adopt this plank. Not because the party loved temperance, but because it feared defeat was that plank adopted. The leader of the Republican state forces is not by any means a total abstainer, being all things to all men, as time and place suit. Even locally things might be said that would render "chestiness" by the party somewhat ludicrous. Our First Ward, now so notorious through the advertising of "Billy" Blodgett and others, is the creation of the local Republican party. For purely party ends the city council and a Republican mayor created the First Ward as it is, cutting it down to its present size and including the present constituent elements. If the first ward as it is is disliked by local Republicans they should refresh their memories as to the way it was formed. Again, local Republicans have taken an active part in retaining the saloons the party cries out against. To be sure there are Republicans who are in earnest as there are Democrats, but chestiness on the part of the party over an untried plank in a wind-swept platform is amusing.

One of the most interesting things of the present political situation is the attempt the Republicans are making to avoid the real issues of the campaign, and turn discussion from their record and their misdoings by means of the county unit plank in the state platform. It is not the only thing in the campaign. Both parties have declared for temperance, the only difference is the way in which it shall be brought about. Illinois has put thousands of saloons out of business by township unit, and Indiana will do the same. Both schemes have their strong points, and both have their weak points. But there are other things to be discussed, Republican extravagance, increasing the expenditures for salaries and office maintenance of the state house over three hundred thousand dollars last year. There are the hard times we are now facing, all due to Republican administration, and Wall Street pull on the treasury of the country. There are the trusts born of a Republican tariff. Such are the points the Republicans would not discuss. Such are the points that need discussion.

BOY SCRATCHED DAY AND NIGHT

Dermatoma Began When a Tiny Baby Lasted 7 Years—Tore Crusts from Face Till It Was All Raw—Screamed with Pain and Could not Sleep—Though Specialists Failed

CUTICURA EFFECTED A WONDERFUL CURE

When my little boy was six weeks an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor and got ointments and medicines but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He scratched day and night until his face sometimes looked like a raw piece of meat. I was nearly insane with his scratching. Then I took him to the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. Sometimes he screamed with pain when I put on the salve they gave me. When he was two years old the eruption got on his arms and legs so I had to keep them bandaged up. I made gloves for his hands so he could not poison him worse. We could not get a night's sleep in months. My husband and I were all broken when my mother asked why I gave up the doctors and try Cuticura. So I got a set and he felt the first time I used them. Cuticura Ointment felt so cool. He would wake up and ask for Cuticura to be put on when he itched so that he could not sleep, and he would say, "Oh! Mama, that makes me feel so good!" I gave him Cuticura Remedies a good trial and finally the eruption healed all up. He is as well as any other child. He is now seven years old and has had no return. I can't tell how glad I am that Cuticura has done this wonderful work in our case. I shall recommend it everywhere. John G. Klumpp, 80 Niagara St., New York, N. Y., Oct. 17 and 22, 1907.

Small size of Cuticura Remedies, consisting of Cuticura Soap (25c), Ointment (50c), and Resol (50c), is sold everywhere. Sold throughout the world. Potter & Co., Inc., Sole Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

CONVICTS ATTEMPT ESCAPE

JAMES F. HUFFMAN AND HARRY MINOR, CONVICTED OF ROB-BING A STORE AND A RAIL-ROAD CAR, RESPECTIVELY, MAKE BREAK FOR LIBERTY, IN JEFFERSONVILLE, AS THEY WERE NEARING PRISON GATE.

THEY DASH DOWN AN ALLEY

Men Were Handcuffed Together and Were Followed by Sheriff Maze Who Recaptured His Prisoners—One Shot and a "Stumble" Pre-vented Men From Getting Away.

Just as they were within a block's distance from the Jeffersonville Penitentiary, where they were to serve sentences for burglary and robbery, James F. Huffman and Harry Minor, who were taken to prison on Monday by Sheriff Maze, made a break for liberty. They were captured by the sheriff after a short chase.

Leaving the train in Jeffersonville Sheriff Maze started to malk his prisoners, who were handcuffed together, to the prison. The sheriff walked behind his prisoners and carried his overcoat on his arm. Just behind Sheriff Maze was a deputy sheriff from Rensselaer who had another prisoner.

Mud Hole Stopped Flight. Everything went all right until the sheriff and his prisoners neared the prison gate. When not more than two blocks away, Huffman and Minor, who were a few yards in advance of the sheriff suddenly dodged into an alley and made a dash for liberty. Sheriff Maze was after them the minute they started. "Stop" he called. The men only ran the faster. They were rapidly distancing the sheriff when he drew his revolver and fired at Huffman.

Just as he fired Huffman turned his head and pitched forward. He did not pull Minor to the ground, however. Sheriff Maze was at their side in a jiffy. He believed that his shot had hit Huffman. "Did I hit you, Jim?" asked the sheriff. "No," said Huffman, "I was just trying to get away and I would have had I not stumbled in this mud-hole." The sheriff was relieved to find that the man was not wounded. Huffman had turned his head as the shot was fired and had stepped in a mud-hole at the same time.

One Prisoner an ex-Convict. The officials at the prison had heard the shot and several had run down to where the sheriff had the prisoners. Mr. Maze then gave his overcoat to one of the other officers and led his men to the prison office and turned them over to the prison officials.

"No wonder your men wanted to get away," said the warden of the prison as soon as he had sized up the men. "This man Huffman has not been out of here more than four months. He was sent here from Kokomo for burglary and served a term of four years." The warden then got the bertillon picture and description of Huffman and showed it to the sheriff.

Huffman said after he arrived at the prison that he was not afraid of the bullets and never would have stopped running had he not stumbled. He is the man arrested in Roachdale a few weeks ago for robbing a store. He was in the store when caught by the Roachdale Marshal. Minor is the boy arrested and sentenced for robbing a Monon box-car here.

ASKS DAMAGES OF MARSHALL

is seeking to collect from Littell or his bondsmen.

The defendant alleges that Brothers was resisting arrest, that he attempted to draw a weapon, and that the blows were struck in the discharge of duty. J. H. James and A. Stephenson of Roachdale are the attorneys for the defendant and J. P. Allee and Gillen & Wilson appear for the plaintiff.

The case of George Brothers against B. S. Littell, town marshal of Roachdale, in which Brothers attempted to collect two thousand dollars damages from the marshal and his bondsmen for alleged assault during an arrest of Brothers made by Littell, was decided Saturday afternoon. The case went to the jury late in the afternoon, the testimony and argument having occupied the larger part of two days. The jury was out but a few minutes, and returned a verdict for the defendant. It was stated that while some violence might have been used, this was excusable in view of the conduct of a certain element of Roachdale earlier during that day, and in view of threats that had been made. The jury took this view of the matter and freed the defendant, granting no damages to the plaintiff.

Not Wanting a Job.

When Gladstone was chancellor of the exchequer, one day he was in the shipping department of the government office getting some information and figures for the coming budget. While thus engaged a Sunderland shipowner called to see Mr. Lindsey, the then member for Sunderland.

While waiting for Mr. Lindsey to come in the shipowner got his eye on Mr. Gladstone and was watching him closely. After doing so a little while he thus addressed him:

"Thou seemst a good writer and clever at figures. I'll give you £100 a year, and that's an offer thou't not get every day!"

Mr. Gladstone thanked him and said he would see Mr. Lindsey.

Just then Mr. Lindsey entered. Then Mr. Gladstone told Mr. Lindsey of the offer his friend had made him.

Mr. Lindsey said it was a very good offer, but he did not know if Mr. Gladstone could be spared. Anyway he had better introduce them. Turning to his friend, the shipowner, he said, "Allow me to introduce you to W. E. Gladstone, chancellor of the exchequer—Mr. So-and-so, Sunderland." The amazement of the shipowner cannot be described. The Grand Old Man laughed immoderately.—London Answers.

STATE WANTS THE INTEREST

An Attempt to Collect From The Counties in Order That Collected Funds May Work for Common Wealth.

MAKES DEMAND ON MONROE CO.

There is likely to be a legal contest at Indianapolis to determine the right of the state treasurer to demand state funds of the counties at other times than January 1 and July 1. In the matter of interest on the daily balances it means a good deal to the counties as well as to the state.

A little more than a week ago the state treasurer made demand upon County Treasurer E. J. Robinson, at Indianapolis, for $100,000 of the state's funds in his keeping. Robinson replied that he did not understand the new depository law required him to make such payment. His stand in the matter gave rise to the question whether the state could demand state funds before the semi-annual settlement time July 1. The law which governed in the matter was enacted in 1861, and gave the state treasurer the right to demand state funds at any time. The new depository law says that the apportionment of taxes collected shall be made semi-annually, January 1 and July 1, and shall be remitted to the different funds by warrant drawn by the auditor of the county.

The county treasurer holds that the act of 1907 repeals the act of 1861, upon which act the state treasurer bases his right to demand remittance of state funds from a county treasurer. If the state treasurer can enforce his demand in every county in the state it will mean a saving to the state of about $9,000 a month, this being about the profit it can make if the interest the money draws is payable to the state treasury instead of the various county treasuries.

It is understood that Marion county will refuse to honor the order of the state treasurer for the payment of $100,000 of state funds out of collections of taxes made up to the first day of May. A conference of the attorneys, for the county auditor, county treasurers, county board of finance, school commissioners, the city, and the attorney general, for the state, has been held and they will look up authorities cited on both sides of the case and report to the county board of finances.

BOVELL VERSUS IDDIGS

The case of Bovell vs. Iddings in which Hugh L. Bovell, at one time the Superintendent of Construction of the court house here, seeks to recover from Francis M. Iddings the price of a piano which it is alleged Iddings purchased but never paid for. The case was tried before a jury last term, and the jury disagreed. The day the hearing was before Judge Rawley.

The defendants claim that they took the piano only to store it as a favor to the plaintiffs, and had no intention at any time of purchasing the instrument. They allege, further, that the plaintiffs were "aware that the piano was so stored and not purchased. The plaintiffs were represented by J. H. James, the defendants by Moore Bros. The argument was finished at noon and Judge Rawley took the case under advisement.

In the case of Hugh L. Bovell against Francis M. Iddings to collect the purchase price of a piano, Judge Rawley, who Thursday heard the evidence and argument, today rendered judgment. Judge Rawley finds for the defendant, whose contention was that he took the piano to store and with the understanding he was to purchase it at some future time if he so desired.

Mr. Bovell was superintendent of construction on our court house under Contractors Caldwell & Drake.

This farm, the petition alleges, is partly tillable, partly fine woodland and is not capable of equal division. The plaintiffs, Mary J. Rogers, Augusta A. Leonard, Mattie H. Buck, John C. Wilson, ask that the real estate be sold and that the court appoint a commissioner to make such sale.

BROUGHT FROM LAFAYETTE

Harry Minor is Arrested by Monon Detectives and Brought to Greencastle on Charge of Stealing Shoes.

THE CONFEDERATE HAS ESCAPED

Afternoon of May 7 Chief Special Agent of the Monon Edward J. Mackesy and his assistant detective Hays brought to the Mayor's office a young man, 19 years of age, whom they had arrested in Lafayette for stealing shoes. The shoes were taken from a freight car in Greencastle. The man's name is Harry Minor and he claims Cleveland, Ohio, as his home.

According to the story told by the prisoner he, with a companion, was beating his way home from Kansas City. They were put off a freight train here when the engine was coaling. Prowling about the Monon yards for a place to sleep they found an open car and entered it and went to sleep. When they awoke they found it had several boxes of shoes in it. They opened the box and took three pairs.

They then worked their way to Lafayette, where Minor was arrested while attempting to sell the shoes. That afternoon he pleaded guilty to petit larceny when arraigned before the mayor. He was remanded to jail to await a hearing before the circuit court.

AN INTERESTING OLD RELIC

Noble Campbell Shows Complete File of Newspaper From the Year 1811 Found Among the Effects of The Late Howard Briggs.

ATTACK ON PRESIDENT MADISON

Noble Campbell was in the Herald office Thurs with an interesting relic found among the effects of his father-in-law, the late Howard Briggs. It is a complete file of the newspaper, "The Fayette and Greene Spectator" of the year 1811. The file is bound and well preserved, though the paper is yellow and the ink brown. It is fair to say that it is in much better condition than one of our modern newspapers would be at similar age. This is due to the fact that the old paper was printed on an excellent quality of hand made paper, such as would now sell at 25 to 30 cents per pound and is used only in the finest book work.

The old paper states that it has a great advantage over all other papers of the Southern part of Pennsylvania in that it is not published till Friday of each week, and therefore can print the New York news which comes by stage on Wednesday and the Washington News which comes on Thursday. It contains a large number of advertisements for runaway slaves, the paper being issued in the time when slavery existed in Pennsylvania.

The paper was sent to one William Cooper. From his family it passed into the hands of the father of Howard Briggs and thence to the son. Mr. Briggs believed the volume lost, as he had searched in vain for it during the last year. After his death it was discovered among other old papers on a shelf in the woodshed. The bound volume is now on exhibition in the Sayres book store.

LEFT PONY IN THE RAIN

Thursday morning at near 9 o'clock, Bruce Richardson, who lives on the Reese Buil farm east of town rode his pony to town and hitched it at the rack at the Crawford Blacksmith shop. There the pony stood all day in the cold and rain. Several persons complained to the Marshal and finally at near 7 o'clock that night he took the then shivering and hungry animal to a livery stable. Today Richardson came for the pony. He was taken before the mayor and given a good lecture and allowed to take his pony and go.

The officers at first intended to file an affidavit charging cruelty to animals against the youth but on hearing his story they allowed him to go free this time. He promised to be more careful in the future, however.

Richardson said that he brought the pony to town to sell it to a groceryman. On account of the rain the grocer kept postponing a trial drive of the pony. The boy waited and it continued to rain. Finally night came and the grocer had not tried the pony. When the boy went for it to go home it was gone. He found it at a livery stable, but the liveryman would not let him have it until he had seen the mayor.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Green-castle.

Do the right thing at the right time.
Act quickly in times of danger.
Backache is kidney danger.
Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly.
Care all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

plenty of evidence to prove this.
George Cotton, of Terre Haute, Ind., says: "I think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills as I received great benefit from their use some years ago and gave a statement telling of my case in 1897. I am glad to con-firm same now. Previous to using Doan's Kidney Pills I had a dull constant backache. At other times the pains would be sharp as though a knife were being thrust into my loins. The secretions were irregular the passages being painful and it al-lowed to stand contained a thick sediment. I tried nearly everything without benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. They banished the backache and corrected the kidney secretions. During the past nine years I have had no return of the trouble whatever."

Plenty more proof like this from Green-castle people. Call at Jones' drug store and ask what customers report.

SALOON MAN IS ARRESTED

Charge Filed by A. T. Riley Against George W. Gardner—Alleged That Board Partition in Saloon is Con-trary to Law—Mr. Gardner, Through His Attorney Pleads Not Guilty.

APPEALS TO THE CIRCUIT COURT

George Gardner, the saloon man, was arrested Tues morning on an af-fidavit filed by A. T. Riley, alleging that he had a board partition across the room in which he maintains a saloon. This the affidavit alleges is contrary to law.

Through his attorney Col. C. C. Matson, Mr. Gardner pleaded not guilty. Mayor Hays fined Mr. Gard-ner $10 and then, Col. Matson ap-pealed the case to the circuit court.

TO LOSE RURAL ROUTE

Cloverdale Postoffice Notified That The Condition of the Road on Route Four Was Bad.

The Postoffice Department has called the attention of the postmas-ter at Cloverdale, Indiana, to the bad condition of certain roads on Rural Route 4 required to be traveled by the rural mail carrier and which are in urgent need of repair and infor-med him that unless the roads are re-paired within a reasonable time it may be found necessary to withdraw service from the roads affected.—Cloverdale Graphic.

BARN BURNED

A barn on the farm of T. B. Farm-er five miles east of town, was burned Monday afternoon. The source of the fire is not definitely known. Some children were playing in the barn and discovered the fire first. A quantity of hay and 1200 bushels of corn and a set of harness were destroyed. Two horses were in the barn, but were led out. The buggy, wagon and other things were saved.

Meat Versus Song.

The great tenor's lunch consisted of a cheese omelet, asparagus, fruit and an ice.

"No meat," said the reporter. "As little meat as possible," the tenor replied. "Meat kills song. The night-ingale, the thrush and lark are grain eaters, and their song is sweet. The carnivorous birds, the crow, etc., only croak. And in countries that go in for excessive meat eating—England, for instance—there are few good voices, while in the more vegetarian countries, such as Italy, fine singers abound. Song birds are vegetarian," he con-cluded. "Carnivorous birds croak."—New York Press.

Where Water Means Life.

As illustrating the scarcity of water in some parts of Australia and the high value set upon it, I would draw attention to the case of three Afghans who were murdered in West Australia. Water was scarce, and yet these three orientals washed themselves in a road hole—the sole source of supply—ad-joining a selector's homestead. In a fury he shot the three of them, and at his subsequent trial the jury unani-mously acquitted him.—Wide World Magazine.

His Great Fault.

"Yes," said the would be author. "I've taken a house in the country," but it will be necessary for me to engage a gardener. There's quite a plot of ground around the house; too much for me to handle."

"Yes," replied Crittick, "you never could handle a plot, could you?"—Cath-olic Standard and Times.

"Not always," replied the observer; "but, in any event, it is always com-mendable."—Philadelphia Press.

A Message by Telephone.

[Original.]

I had had a hard day with an obsti-nate case of a patient whom I had pulled through with much difficulty and was preparing for bed, hoping that I would be allowed to sleep till morn-ing, when there was a ring at my tele-phone.

"Are you Dr. Murdock?" came a child's voice.

"Yes."

"I'm—I couldn't make out the name."

"Who?"

"Again the name was a jumble."

"Speak louder," I said.

"I don't dare. They'll hear me."

"Well, what is it? Why do you tele-phone me?"

"You're our family doctor. I've called you up for mother often. This after-noon I was passing a carriage stand-ing by the sidewalk. Two men pushed me in it and carried me off. Come here and get me out."

"Where?"

"I don't know."

"Can't you tell me something about it?"

"I saw Washington street on a lamp-post. The next street sign I saw was Burnet."

"Repeat that."

"Burnet."

"All right. Go on."

"We didn't turn out of Burnet. I kept looking at the street names, and after we crossed Chestnut."

"That was the last word I got. I called again and again without any reply, only the buzzing common in tele-phones. It occurred to me at once that a child—I couldn't tell from the voice whether it was a boy or girl—had been kidnapped and had got hold of a tele-phone only to be stopped in time to prevent my getting definite informa-tion."

I called up police headquarters and told my story, and after a few min-utes' consultation among them they requested me to go with them for a search. A carriage containing three men in plain clothes soon drove up to the house, and we started for Wash-ington street, turning thence into Bur-net and, crossing Chestnut, stopped to survey the locality.

Meanwhile we had come to the con-clusion that the kidnappers must have taken the child to a house of good class since it contained a telephone. The houses near where we stopped were fine residences. It was the month of August, and, while there were lights in most of them, one had evi-dently been closed. A policeman walked around it and reported that a ray of light came through a crack in an upper story. I was requested to ring the bell and ask if a doctor had been called for. I rang, but received no reply. Again and again I pushed the button, and at last the door was opened, and a woman stood in the opening. I asked her if a doctor had been called for, and she said no.

The policeman in charge of the squad was with me, carrying my bag of medicines. He pushed into the vestibule.

"Shall I strike a light, doctor?" he asked. And without waiting for a reply he lit the hall gas jet. We saw that the woman was old and of forbid-ding appearance.

"Say," said the policeman, "we've been telephoned that there's a child sick in this house, and the doctor must see him."

At the mention of the child and the telephone the woman drew a long breath. This was enough for the po-liceman. He ordered the house sur-rounded and, directing the woman to follow, went upstairs to a bedroom, where he found a telephone. I went with them.

"I thought so," he said at seeing the phone.

Taking up the receiver, he called up the nearest police station and in a few minutes a couple more men re-ported. Then commenced a searching of the premises. We soon came upon a man in bed, who was routed out, and both he and the woman were taken along with us. We went from garret to cellar without finding anything. We were looking about in the laundry when it occurred to one of the men to raise the lid of a stationary wash tub. It was fastened. The man called upon the old woman for something to pry it open with. She turned pale. Two men grasped the cover and lifted it.

There, lying in the tub, was a boy about six years old. He was insens-ible, having been given an anaesthetic to prevent his crying out. I recognized Eddie Thornton, the child of one of my clients.

I took measures to revive the boy, and he soon came to his senses. The man and woman, on being questioned, said they had never suspected that a boy of six would know how to use a telephone, though they had forgotten the phone when they put him where it was. The woman heard him, as she supposed, talking to himself, but soon, suspecting that he might be up to some mischief, rushed into the room and took away the receiver.

I went upstairs, telephoned the boy's parents, who were in a frightful con-dition of mind, and told them the news. Then I drove Eddie home.

Since this episode I have recom-mended all parents to accustom their children as soon as possible to the use of the telephone. Eddie, a remarkably precocious child, had been infatuated with the instrument ever since its in-troduction into the house. His mother had permitted him to order supplies for her, and since she was an invalid, having frequent occasion for my serv-ices, the child remembered my num-ber, which was composed of but two figures.

PUTNAM COUNTY'S ATTITUDE

Democrats in Caucus Discuss the Possibility of a Candidate From The County and Canvass the Question of Instructions.

VOORHEES TO BE A FACTOR

There were a number of representative citizens, who met, at the office of Dr. Bence Tuesday evening, for the purpose of discussing the relation of Putnam County to the congressional convention to be held soon at Rockville, by the democrats of the Fifth District. The action of the county as a unit for any single candidate was not so much in consideration, as the propriety and fitness of entertaining views other than the announced "Moss" expressions. In general the discussion centered upon the position of our fellow townsman, James Paxton Voorhees, in the race. Putnam County's attitude was recognized to be exactly what it is,—free and independent, always. While not committed to the exclusive and uncompromising interests of any single factor in the political, or general, situation, the kindest of personal feeling is experienced, as a result of this meeting, for the interests of all. Mr. Voorhees, who does not believe in the few thoughtlessly or needlessly excluding or depriving the many of primary right of choice, rather opposes the unit rule, at best. There is a strong sentiment favorable to Mr. Voorhees' position, in the district, and an equal approval of his candidacy, resulting from the major sense of the meeting, last night. The results of the consultation could not be completed, at the one sitting, and will have further effects.

A Wonder.

Jill—Very. Why, he can hold his fountain pen behind his ear without getting ink all over his cheek!—Yonkers Statesman.

Four Courtship Sundays.

The four Sundays of November are observed as fete days in Holland. They are known by the curious names Review, Decision, Purchase and Possession, and all refer to matrimonial affairs, November in Holland being the month par excellence devoted to courtship and marriage, probably because the agricultural occupations of the year are over and possibly because the lords of creation from quite remote antiquity have recognized the pleasantness of having wives to cook and cater for them during the long winter.

On Review Sunday everybody goes to church, and after service there is a church parade in every village, when the youths and maidens gaze upon each other, but forbear to speak.

On Decision Sunday each bachelor who is seeking a wife approaches the maiden of his choice with a ceremonious bow and from her manner of responding judges whether his advances are acceptable. Purchase Sunday the consent of the parents is sought if the suit has prospered during the week. Not until Possession Sunday, however, do the twain appear before the world as actual or prospective brides and grooms.

Having Money and Not Having It.

"Well," said the old philosopher, "I don't see much difference in having money an' in not havin' it. When people know you've got it they're red hot to get it from you, an' when they know you hain't got it they're red hot to fetch in all the bills they've got agin' you an' try to get it anyhow. So, you see, it's a mortal worry a-comin' an' a-gwine. Havin' it or not havin' it, you're 'twixt the devil an' the deep sea six days out the week an' no rest on a Sunday. It ain't nuthin' but printed paper an' yaller an' white metal, an' yit the world 'most stops turnin' round to look at it. It says it'll be a friend to you and then don't stay with you long enough to get acquainted good. It's as deceivin' as Satan hisself, though I must say that jest about this time I'd like to see the deception of it come my way. Sich is human natur', for which we ain't responsible."—Atlanta Constitution.

Holding His Job.

"I think the man who works at that place across the street is the most faithful and conscientious workman I ever saw. He never takes a holiday and always labors away till it's too dark to see any longer."
"Faithful workman! Great Scott! He's the proprietor of the shop!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Fireside Diplomat.

"I don't want to be nagging at you," Mrs. Marryat began, "but it's the little things that bother me most."

"Ah!" interrupted her husband sweetly. "I suppose you're going to tell me you haven't a decent pair of shoes."—Philadelphia Press.

Homemade.

"We are told to cast our bread upon the waters," said a young wife.
"But don't you do it," replied her husband. "A vessel might run against it and get wrecked."—Simplicissimus.

A Wrong Guess.

Botanical Youth (in park)—Can you tell me if this plant belongs to the arbutus family? Gardener (curtly)—No, young man, it don't. It belongs to the county council.—London Globe.

IN MEMORY

One more to answer to the roll in Heaven, one less on earth. God in his infinite mercy has called from us a dear son and brother to make up the bright jewels of his crown. Roy A. Toney son of Charley and Emma Toney was born November 1, 1888 and died May 6, 1908 at the youthful age of nineteen years, five months and 22 days. What a world of sorrow in this record. "In the midst of life we are in death." These are solemn words of warning which often fall on listless ears until some illustration of their truthfulness startles us into a full realization of their importance. Roy was a boy of good habits and high purposes. He was a kind and obedient son and a loving brother. He leaves to mourn his demise a father, mother, five brothers, four sisters, his aged grandfather and a host of other relatives and friends. May the Lord bless them in this hour of sorrow and may those he leaves behind feel such a life that when death comes each one may be willing to be absent from the body and present with the Lord. The funeral services were conducted at Bethel Church on Little Walnut Friday morning by Rev. N. Dalby, pastor of that church, in a beautiful and touching manner. There were many floral offerings, symbols of the esteem in which he was held. Father, mother, brothers and sisters, my work is done; the river is past, the goal is won; my feet are now treading a radiant short, where sorrow and sighing are known no more. Though happy the days I spent on earth, and dear to my heart is the place of my birth, I had never dreamed of a home like this. Oh earth has too much of sorrow and pain, ask me not to return again, where tears of bereavement and anguish flow, and the heart is saddened by tales of woe. But strive to prepare for that happy clime and when you are called from the shores of time, your feet too, shall press the celestial sod. You'll come home to me, your Saviour and God.
